Initial Release of Census 2011 Data

The first release of the 2011 Census at Output Area level has been published into the public domain. Pitney Bowes Software has processed this data into a GIS usable format. The first release includes household and population estimates by age and sex for England and Wales along with Output Area boundaries and Population Weighted Centroids. Pitney Bowes Software will process additional variables, boundaries and coverage as they are released by the relevant government agencies over the next 12 months.

When available the full set of 2011 variables will be split into packs such as Economic Activity, Health, Housing, Social Class, Migration, and Workplace to make navigating the thousands of variables easier.
