

CDR Group cements Ordnance Survey Partnership

CDR Group is proud to announce that it has become a Licensed Partner of Ordnance Survey, licensed to distribute their range of digital mapping products. CDR has worked closely with Ordnance Survey as a Developer Partner since digital data became available from Ordnance Survey back in the 1980's.

CDR Group are now positioned to take advantage of opportunities they see arising from the new business strategy being adopted by Ordnance Survey, announced shortly before the Location 09 Partner Conference in May. Sales Director, John Ievers commented, "We have a long and established partnership with Ordnance Survey and we are now looking forward to extending our reach into the market by offering a wide range of Ordnance Survey products. As Accredited Data Consultants with intimate working knowledge of the OS products, we are now able to supply our clients outside of the Public Sector too." Agreements are now signed, products in place and the first orders have already been fulfilled.