

Snow problem doesn't stop CDR - but we are having fun!

It has been a white world in Hope for 11 days but the snow is now receding.

Staff have battled up the hill to work every day in February so far - sometimes having to leave cars half a mile away. Even so, we have still managed to run our monthly Open Day on the 6th and our MapInfo Training Courses, as well as building the odd snowman or two during lunch breaks.

And as the snow turns to rain - the snowdrops are peaking through...
